Reasons Why We Can Grow Good Stock and Sell It Cheaply: Having a mild climate with little or no frost during winter, we save all coal bills, even all hot-house building and expenses. We have only enough glass for propagating purposes.

Having a very even climate in summer, with cool, moist air, the majority of our plants are grown right out in the open and are therefore strong, stocky, well-hardened and ready for planting out at any time.

Owning thousands of acres of good, rich land and our own water system, we are saved all consequent expenses.

Inspection invited. Visitors always welcomed and courteously treated.
